Academic Representation at Heriot-Watt Student Union

As part of our work to actively listen to students, the Student Union recruits a network of over 250 undergraduate Class Reps to gather feedback from students and deliver it to the appropriate people across the university to create change and improve the learning experience. We have 24 School Officers to help lead that network. School Officers are one of the most important connections between the student body and the Union. Regular meetings and communication with School Officers ensures that our Full-Time Officers and University staff know how students are feeling at any point in the academic year and what they should be working on.

School Officer Responsibilities
